

Grove Rings Up His 300th Win

Boston Star Puts Himself In Class Alone As Outstanding Lefthander Of All Time; Yanks Go On; Dodgers, Reds, Cards Lose

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, July 26—We doff our sombrero today to the greatest left handed pitcher of all time—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove of the Boston Red Sox.

And if anybody doubts it, we are prepared to offer the following facts to bolster our case:

Lefty yesterday turned in his 300th Major League victory, a feat accomplished by only four others since the turn of the century—Grover Cleveland Alexander, Cy Young, Eddie Plank and Walter Johnson—immortals all.

In the last 40 years there have been four outstanding southpaws—

Rube Wardell, Eddie Plank, Herb Pennock and Lefty Grove—and old Connie Mack, who managed them all says Grove was the star of them all and Connie's judgment is good enough for us.

Now is that all. When speedy pitchers are up for discussion only four names are ever mentioned—Walter Johnson, Bob Feller, Dazzy Vance and Lefty Grove. And most baseball veterans agree Grove was only a shade, if that, less fast than Johnson.

They said Connie Mack was crazy when he paid Baltimore $105,000 for Lefty back in 1925. Yes, Connie was crazy—just like a fox. For in the next nine years Lefty won 195 games for the Athletics or an average of 22 a year and turned in four World Series victories.

Top League Many Times

And during that time Lefty led the league four times in games won, five times in earned run averages, four times in winning percentages and seven straight years in strikeouts.

Then Connie sold him to Boston for $125,000 or $20,000 more than he had paid for Lefty nine years before. How crazy would you say Mr. Mack was?

Since joining the Red Sox in 1933 Lefty has led the league in earned run averages four times. He has topped both leagues in earned run averages nine years and for five years led everybody in won and lost percentages.

Previous to this year he had fanned 2,217 Major League hitters to say nothing of the 1,168 he fanned in the minors.

And now at 41, the gray-haired veteran from Lonaconing, Md., is still able to step out with the mercury at 90 in the shade and turn back the Indians, 10-6, with the help of a homer by Williams and two by Tabor.

Well, have we proved our case? Okeh, then we can move on to remind you that the Yanks increased their lead to 11 games by blanking the White Sox, 8-0, for their seventh straight victory. Spud Chandler held the White Sox to three hits and Charley Keller batted in with a homer No. 25 and Tommy Henrich with No. 18.

The Athletics moved within a game of the first division by trouncing the sliding Tigers, 11-5 and the Browns bounced out of the cellar by downing the Senators, 5-3.

There was joy in Pittsburgh and corresponding gloom in Brooklyn as the Pirates took a doubleheader from the Dodgers, 8-4 and 8-2. That made seven straight for the Pirates and moved them up to third place in the standings.

Reds, Cards Lose

The Reds fell victim to long Tom Hughes of the Phillies, 4-3, and in a night game in St. Louis, the five game winning streak of Cards was stopped by Jim Tobin as the seventh place Boston Braves copped an 8 to 0 victory.

Church of Christ Campmeeting Date August 20; Record Crowd Expected

Lack Of Space Means Some Will Be Unable To Attend Sessions

With the opening of the Church of Christ campmeeting on East Ohio Street less than a month away, campground officials are making preparations to accommodate one of the largest crowds ever to attend the ten-day religious program.

The Rev. O. L. Ferguson, pastor of the local church, said Saturday that he expected this year's attendance to break records of previous years by a substantial number. Already, facilities for housing visitors during the meeting have been filled and if reservations continue to come in many will have to be cancelled because of lack of space, the Rev. Mr. Ferguson declared.

Work on the Mount of Praise grounds will start a week from Monday, according to Rev. Ferguson in order that the grounds may be ready for the opening day August 20. The campmeeting will close on August 31.

Evangelists for the services include the Rev. T. M. Anderson, the Rev. Bona Fleming and the Rev. John Church. E. Clay Milby will be the song evangelist and the Rev. Edna Leonard the children's evangelist.

Service hours will be 7 a. m., 8 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 1 p. m., 2: p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The campground committee includes the Rev. Mr. Ferguson, the Rev. E. A. Sager and the Rev. E. A. Keaton.

Church Briefs

No services will be held at the St. Phillip's Episcopal Church during August.

A vacation Bible School will be held in the Laurelvile Methodist Church starting August 4 and continuing two weeks, with all churches of the community cooperating and all children invited. Mrs. Bushnell will act as supervisor.

Sunday school and church worship at Christ Church will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday instead of 2 o'clock.

"Seeking For the Worst versus Seeking for the Best in Our Fellow Men" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. George Troutman at Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday morning. Lutheran meetings during next week include a church vestry meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30, a teachers' meeting Friday evening at 6:45 and Senior Choir practice Friday evening at 7:15.

Ralph Stinson of Columbus will conduct the morning services and preach Sunday at the Circleville Church of Christ at Woodman Hall. The Maxey brothers are conducting evangelistic meetings from Sunday until August 8, with a children's hour each morning from 9:30 to 10:30.

WASHINGTON'S OUTFIELD

ONE of the most brilliant and public-spirited dollar-a-year men at Washington, Manufacturer John D. Biggers of Toledo, thinks the national system could be improved with less field work.

Baseball, he observes, is a game in which the batter must touch all three bases before coming home, but in Washington the batter has a much bigger run-around. He thinks the defense administration will be really effective when the batter can follow the normal route to third base without roaming all over the lot.

That may be attended to in time. But time is, as the lawyers say, "of the essence."

ALUMINUM

"POTS and pans, pots and pans—any old pots and pans today? Aluminum for Uncle Sam! Pots and pans—pots and pans!"

So it goes, as the kitchens and basements and backyards and junk piles of a nation are ransacked for old aluminum ware to turn over to the government as material for military planes. Aluminum seems to be the most essential metal in this crucial war. And before the world has settled down again, we may be actually clearing our kitchens of all aluminum, old or new, to insure victory for freedom.

It is strange, the importance assumed by this metal which, only 40 years ago, was unfamiliar to most people and rated as a curiosity. Also by other light, tough metals, used largely in alloys, such as magnesium and manganese. Forty years from now we shall doubtless be using, singly or in combination, many another metallic element that we hardly recognize now.

GROWING AIR POWER

THE recent aggressiveness of the British Air Force is remarkable. It comes only in part from the withdrawal of German planes for the assault on Russia. The biggest factor may be increased production.

Both in England and in America the output of fighting planes and bombers has risen greatly. A current report says the two countries together are now producing one-third more warplanes a month than Germany. According to American Machinist, total world production of planes is now about 8,000 a month, of which Germany is credited with 2,500, Russia 2,000, Britain 1,800 and the United States 1,500. Thus Britain and America together are turning out 3,300 planes a

U. S. ECONOMIC BLITZ

WASHINGTON — The double-barreled dose of economic warfare—freezing Axis orders and the blacklist—played real hob with Axis operations in South America.

Confidential government cables report that as a result of these measures, 25,000 Axis nationals have been uprooted wholesale from their thriving enterprises and have become refugees, getting a dose of the bitter medicine Germany meted out to millions of European victims forced to flee their homes.

Most of the Axis agents are flocking to Southern Chile, where there is a large German colony. From Bolivia alone two train loads of Axis agents left for Arica, in northern Chile, where they boarded a Japanese ship chartered to take them to Valdina, in the South. This concentration in southern Chile is not disturbing authorities and they are doing nothing to stop it. The region is remote, easily isolated and it is broadly hinted that it may be made a sort of "concentration camp" under military guard.

It can also be revealed that in addition to the original blacklist of 1,800 names, there is another containing 4,500 more.

When these names will be published depends on secret investigations now under way both in the U. S. and Latin America by Commerce Department experts. Secretary Jesse Jones has ordered that particular attention be given to the shipment of U. S. goods packed and labelled to resemble German products to Nazi firms in Latin America. Many of them have done a thriving business in this merchandise, turning over the profits for Axis political machinations.

This should be good news in this season of swimming. Natural Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

ANTI-NAZI BULL'S-EYE

One cable from Honduras reported that five days after the publication of the blacklist the German Tourist Bureau shut down completely, and a German commercial establishment with 40 branches sold out. Also reported were the efforts of a wealthy German to cache $64,000 worth of bonds of the Bank of Honduras. Apparently fearing they would be seized under a freezing order, he turned them over to the German legation for safe keeping.

From another republic a report told of a German agent trying to deposit $500,000 in American currency in the government bank, subject to demand withdrawal. The money was refused.

Another cable reported that numerous Axis publications are being forced out of business. The combination of having their funds shut off, being blacklisted, plus an embargo on American newsprint is cutting the ground from under them.

NOTE: Only sour note in the confidential reports is that Japanese agents are popping up in the Central American capitals.

month, and gaining steadily.

In comparison, Japan's production of 300 planes a month seems rather pitiful. Obviously little danger need be feared from her air force by any first-rate power.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up grumpily and fully decided that not only the corn is in need of a cooling rain. Drove until well past the last midnight seeking escape from the heat, and finally finding a slight measure of relief in the Fox Postoffice neighborhood.

Thought of Clark Hunsicker and his statement that while corn still promises a great crop, the grain is much in need of moisture.

Found nothing in the morning prints, so did crank the wagon and head downtown. Saw Judge Meeker out early and met Byron Eby who told of finding a guinea in his chicken yard and how it soared away over the house-top when he approached. Believed it to be a wild one. Chatted with Jay Clark, who with his wife and son is turning longing eyes toward the north fishland.

Ran into Joe Adkins, who two years ago prepared a $100,000 defamatory of character suit against me, only to settle for a due bill on a cup of coffee. The day being hot enough I insisted that he take immediate payment, which he did with not too much relish, declaring that the bill had run long enough already.

John Heiskell stopped and showed me a picture of a six and one-half pound catfish he landed on Darby Creek. Called on Sheriff Charlie Radcliff and thanked him for the use of two rolls of colored movie film taken in Arizona. As fine pictures, really, as anyone ever will see. Passed the time of day with Ben Gordon, candidate for mayor, snapped a picture of Roy Groce and inspected that new store building in West Main Street. What an establishment that is soon to be!

Did you know Jiggs Carle? Most folk hereabouts did. Quite an institution for sixteen years and three months. He is dead, and Mrs. Charles Carle finds that his passing has left quite a void. Just a fox terrier, but he wiggled his way into many hearts. I patted him many the time up North Court Street way when he appeared at my former residence. I hope Jiggs in the dog hereafter finds plenty of cats to chase, a full food bowl and a kind hand.

John Moore is really proud of that Jerry M horse of his. Well, he should be, a horse that can cover ground as he does. About 75 from the villa cheered Jerry M as he won that race in Washington C. H. this week. Others have cheered him much since. The scrivener was more interested in a story about Jerry M the colt. How he was reared in a lot behind John's place of business, and how he loved to sneak in the back door and nibble free lunch snacks. How, when he grew too large to enter through the door, he would stick in his head and beg for attention. One may gather that I am not much of a track fan. But I do like horses, all kinds of horses.

Mary Wilder, the former librarian, told me of sending packages of food to relatives in England. Tea and chocolate and cheese, gelatin and the like that are almost impossible to obtain over there. Five pounds the limit and not more than two pounds of any one commodity. And of letters of appreciation she has received. Were I over there my request would be for nerve tonic. Gallons and gallons of it. Yes, those English have what it takes to win a war.

DIET AND HEALTH

Swimming the Ideal Form of Exercise

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Swimming is the ideal form of exercise because "it calls into play the general body musculature and produces the elongated, smoothly functioning type of muscle in a uniformly developed body." This is the opinion of an eminent physician, as well as an expert swimmer, Dr. David Mezz, of Brooklyn.

This should be good news in this season of swimming. Natural water is best—the ocean, the lake, the river. The ocean is so saturated with oxygen that it detoxifies all noxious matter almost instantly. Sea animals are so used to a high oxygen content in their environment that they will hardly live an hour in a bucket of sea water that can not renew its vitalizing force.

Safe Swimming Pools

Modern hygiene and the work of sanitary engineers have made artificial pools safe and comfortable. The bacterial content of the water, cleanliness of the bathers, laundering of suits, maintenance of sanitary conditions on the premises have led to great reduction in the incidence of disease conditions from swimming pools.

Filtration of the water, and reduction of bacteria by ultraviolet ray or passage of the water through ozonating machines or the chemical treatment of the water by chlorine do not make the water at all harmful and have eliminated a great deal of contamination and cross infections.

Swimming, although ideal from the standpoint of the number of muscles used and the way they are used, is subject to some hazards. The fact that the body is sustained and suspended by the specific gravity of the water makes swimming seem less effort than it really is and leads to tempting the swimmer to exertion beyond his powers. It is a common experience of swimmers to be surprised at the amount of fatigue they feel after what they thought was a moderate amount of exercise.

Limit Time in Water

Then too, the water as a medium keeps the body cool, and there is no warning sense of overheating to tell the swimmer he has had enough. Dr. Taylor and Dr. Daykin in a recent study concluded that body chilling from swimming caused definite changes which predispose to infections of the nose and ears.

The number of white cells in the blood is reduced on the surface of the body and the protective powers of the fixed tissue cells are reduced as well as a change in the mucous membrane of the nose. This from chilling alone, to say nothing of the washing away of the protective coating of mucus in the nose and the shrinking of the mucous membrane from the effect of the water.

The warning is very definite and applies to all, even the strongest and most confident swimmer. The limit of bathing time should be 45 minutes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. F.:—Is a child born of a parent who suffers likely to inherit this speech defect? Can such imperfection be corrected?

Answer: There is no hereditary tendency in stammering. Stammering can be corrected in many cases, but the methods of treatment vary and all require great patience.

R. R.:—What causes kidney stones? Does drinking coffee cause them?

Answer: Nearly every article of diet has been accused of causing kidney stones, but none has been definitely proved to do so.

Words of Wisdom

In the huge mass of evil as it rolls and swells, there is ever some good working toward deliverance and triumph.—Carlyle.

Today's Horoscope

Is your birthday today? The next year will be fraught with obstacles, family anxieties and sudden upheavals, although some good fortune will come your way. You should safeguard your health and that of your womenfolk. The child born on this date will have many setbacks and disappointments to contend with, but financial help will be forthcoming. The health of such a child will need extra care.

tiful mouth." He was watching her closely. "With any other girl I'd do it, but you—make me feel like a half-baked calf."

"You don't look like a calf," she coaxed laughingly, "unless it's your long eyelashes."

"Stop joking, Ylena," he said roughly. He bent toward her. Longingly, he looked into her surprised green eyes, at pale blond hair serenely parted in the center and hanging to her bare shoulders in loose unhampered waves, at her lips deep, deep pink against her ivory face.

SCOTT HAMILTON is a pleasant young dude rancher. . . .

YESTERDAY: After watching Scott dance with Ylena, Tate visits her at her home and tells her, "Ylena, you're intended to be my wife."

CHAPTER EIGHT

AS QUICKLY as he had said: "You're intended to be my wife," Tate warned himself. "Be careful, Sap! You'll be trapped. Not by Ylena. She scarcely has looked at you. But by yourself, which is worse!"

Instantly he put both hands at the back of her head, under her long hair, and kissed her mouth. Infinitely, he held her that way until her neck, instead of being rigid and antagonistic, was relaxed, until her eyes no longer were snapping with anger, but were mild and dark beneath half-dropped lashes.

Then he put his arms about her again and again, until the heart she thought had ceased beating was pounding like the drops against the windows. The rain, so unpleasant before, now seemed a delightful wall, secluding them from the outer world.

He lifted his mouth from hers to whisper. "You see how it is, Ylena?" She nodded. "Tate, how does a person say, 'Do you believe in love at first sight?' without sounding like a fool?"

The girl laughed. "I'm afraid there is no way to make a ridiculous statement sound any other way."

"It isn't ridiculous," he corrected. "It's painlessly true. I fell in love with you that day you stepped into my office."

"You mean the day you kissed the receptionist clerk's hand?" She shook her head. "Don't forget, Tate, that a person in love is an awful dope." Young Cromwell's dark-blue eyes failed to respond to Ylena's joking repetition of his own statement. "But that's absurd," she hastened to say. "I've been here months and you've made few attempts to see me."

"You've missed me," he cried eagerly.

She said, not truthfully, "

Rader-Hastings Wedding
Vows Read Friday EveQuiet Ceremony
Conducted In Church

Miss Hazel Rowena Hastings daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hastings of near Williamsport, and Mr. George William Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rader of 317 East Mill Street, were united in marriage Friday evening, the quiet wedding taking place in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Robert T. Kelley performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and close friends of the couple.

The bride chose a smart summer frock of poudre blue for her wedding. Her sister, Miss Mary Hastings, was her only attendant. Her dress was of navy blue.

Mr. Robert Kibler served as best man for Mr. Rader.

About 25 were asked to the Rader home, East Mill Street, for an informal reception following the wedding.

Masses of summer garden flowers made the home attractive for the occasion. A large wedding cake centered the table in the dining room where refreshments were served.

Mrs. Thomas Rader, who is 85 years old, was an honored guest at her grandson's wedding and the reception.

Among the guests were Mrs. Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rader, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rader and daughter, Charlotte. Mrs. Charles Niles, Mrs. Oren Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rader and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. George Binkley and Mrs. Victor Brown of Columbus, in addition to the bridal party, and members of the immediate families.

Mr. Rader, who is an accountant at the Nel House, Columbus, and his bride left during the evening for a brief trip.

Mr. Rader will report to his local draft board Thursday, July 31, for examination for Selective Service.

Miss Dreisbach Honored

Miss Maxine Dreisbach, a bride-elect, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower when Miss Helen Mast entertained Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mast, of Washington Township. Miss Dreisbach will become Mrs. Harold Pontius, Sunday, the wedding to be at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Attractive arrangements of roses and gladioli were used in the living rooms of the Mast home.

During the evening, Miss Rosemary Mast, dressed as a southern 'Aunt Jemima,' presented Miss Dreisbach a large basket filled with interesting shower gifts. Several beautiful wedding gifts were found by the honor guest, when messages sent her on a treasure hunt through the rooms of the home.

A centerpiece of yellow poppies flanked with tall candles was used on the table in the dining room

Miss McGhee Hostess

Miss Laura McGhee of Williamsport entertained her contract bridge club Friday at the Wardell party home. Dinner was served at 7 p.m. at a table centered with a lovely crystal bowl of orchid and yellow gladioli.

The club enjoyed an evening of cards at the home of Mrs. Harry McGhee. The players included Mrs. McGhee, Mrs. Fred Tipton, Mrs. Sam Metzger, Mrs. Lee Luelien, Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., Mrs. William Dunlap and Miss McGhee of Williamsport and Mrs. Russell McDill of Frankfort.

Guests at Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Percy May, Miss Sally May and Miss Adabelle May of Wayne Township left Friday for Battle Creek, Mich., to attend the wedding of Lieut. Robert Paul May, son of Mr. and Mrs. May, to Miss Helen Jean Onger, which took place Saturday morning in St. Philip Catholic Church.

Miss Alice Ada May, North Street, also attended her cousin's wedding and will spend the week end in Detroit, Mich., where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Sampson James Smith and family.

Washington Grange

About 30 grangers attended the regular meeting of Washington Grange, Friday, in the Washington School auditorium when an enjoyable program was presented by the group headed by M. M. Bowman.

After group singing, Mrs. J. W. Bolender offered a reading, "Charity," taken from the Bible; brief remarks by Mr. Bolender were followed by a review of incidents of the early years of the grange.

The affair will be at the John Dreisbach home, Pickaway Township, and the guests will include members of the bridal party and a few additional friends.

Those expected in addition to the honor guests are Miss Elsie Updyke, Walnut Township; Miss Dorothy Kohler, Laurelville; Miss Edith Dunkle, Pickaway Township; Miss Virginia Dreisbach, Mr. Merwin McClelland, Columbus; Mr. Hugh Shaffer, Patterson Field; Mr. David Glick, Mr. Festus Walters of near Circleville; Mr. James Pontius, Mr. Wayne Brown of near Ashville.

Cincinnati Opera

Several Circleville residents motored to Cincinnati Friday and enjoyed the presentation of "Aida" at the Zoo. Rose Brampton, Harold Lundi, Kerstin Thorborg, Angelo Pliotto, Nicola Moscona and Curtis Rice were heard in the leading roles.

Those present from this city were Mrs. A. D. Newmyer, Mrs. Florence Rector Jones, Miss Mary Newmyer, Miss Mary Crites, Mr. and Mrs. James Reichendorfer, Miss Mary Hays and Horace Gilmore.

Presby-Weds

The Presby-Weds of the Presbyterian Church will meet Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Price of Jackson Township. Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Watt will be assisting hosts.

A cooperative supper will be served, members being requested to take a covered dish and table service for the affair.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Will L. Mack and Mrs. Ella Horbeck won score prizes Friday when Mrs. Henry Mader of Pinckney Street entertained her two table contract bridge club.

Miss Mary Heffner, East Mound Street, will entertain the group in two weeks.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Fellmeth of 135 East Union Street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Anna Marie, to Mr. William E. Nehrenz of Columbus.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

South already had a good deal of information about the defenders' holdings when West doubled, and possessed still more when the heart K was led. She was a most optimistic bidder to try the grand slam knowing from her partner's Blackwood responses that two kings were out against her, especially to try it in No Trumps. DANCE IN COTTON

THE casual cotton dinner dress leads an active life these Summer evenings. For roof garden-dining, for informal dances at the country club, for a thousand-and-one warm-weather occasions after dark, nothing takes the place of a cool, washable cotton dance or dinner frock. Some of the nicest are shown in pique, either in white or colors, while embroidered batiste, organdie, sprigged dimity and even gingham are popular runners-up. The styles are simple and youthful, usually with fitted midriff and gracefully flaring skirt. With the whites, you wear colored accessories—with the colors, you wear white finishing touches.

The European corn borer attacks not only corn but any of the garden plants, vegetables and weeds, having large enough stems for the worms to enter. The presence of the borer may be indicated in various ways: small holes in the stalks with slimy boring frequently protruding; small areas of surface feeding on the leaf blades with fine sawdust-like castings on the upper sides of the leaves; bent or broken tassels of corn, or the collapse of the stalks are also signs of the corn borer.

Chicken a la Providence

1 chicken 1/2 c. cooked
Seasoning carrots
2 level tbsps. 1/2 c. cooked butter green peas
2 tbsps. flour 1 tsp. chopped
2 c. stock parsley

Boil chicken gently until tender, seasoning while cooking. Cut into pieces convenient for serving and set aside while sauce is prepared. Melt butter, add flour and blend until smooth, add stock, using liquor in which chicken was cooked, and stir until boiling. Cook 5 minutes, put in carrot and peas, also add egg yolks and seasoning. Pour over chicken and sprinkle with parsley.

Devil's Food Cake

1/2 c. butter 1/2 tsp. salt
3 c. sugar 1 c. cold water
3 c. sifted 2 sqs. unsweetened
flour chocolate
3 tbsps. all-phosphate baking 3 eggs powder 1 tsp. each
1/2 tsp. ground cloves vanilla and
1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg lemon extracts

Cream butter, add sugar and egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and spices and add to first mixture with water. Melt chocolate in 1 cup boiling water and beat into cake with flavoring, then fold in whites of eggs beaten to stiff froth. Bake in greased pan in moderate oven from 30 to 45 minutes. Cover with boiled frosting.

CHOCOLATE cream pie is something the youngsters of the family will cheer about. Mother may not be so keen about it, as it contains quite a sizeable number of calories, but Dad will probably be as enthusiastic as the youngsters.

DRAFT BOARD LISTS 18 TO ENTER ARMY AS AUGUST 8 QUOTA

All Class 1-A Inductees
Through Order Number
865 Assigned

TWO MORE TO BE SENT

None Of 21-Year-Old Boys
Included In Group

Draft officials Saturday completed their August 8th call and were prepared to send 18 men into service. The contingent will be the third largest to leave the county under the Selective Service Act.

The call includes Lawrence W. Ater, Williamsport, Route 2; Alfred Wayne Baxter, Circleville; Shirley Loring Waldeich, Circleville Route 4; Everett Lee Adkins, Burwind, West Virginia; Eugene Alpha Shonkwiler, Williamsport; Willard James Stout, Circleville Route 3; Everett Richard Caldwell, Circleville; Charles Edward O'Hara, Ashville Route 2; Charles Robert Beavers, Orient; John William Graham, Circleville; Ralph Fausnaugh, Circleville Route 3; John Joseph Ward, Ashville Route 1; Leland Perry Jones, Mt. Sterling Route 1; Roy Fred Steube, Ashville Route 2; Gordon Yates, Keating, Oregon; Lindsey Lawson, Ashville; Harry Burton Calton, Circleville, Route 4; and Clarence Herbert England, Circleville.

The call will take all Class 1-A men through order number 865. A tentative call for two men on the period beginning August 12 was received Saturday but the report is yet to be confirmed by an official order from state headquarters.

Neither the August 8th nor the August 12 call will include any of the 21-year-olds who registered for service on July 1, according to local draft officials, and it is not expected that any of the new registrants will be called into service for at least another month.

Although the 142 new registrants have been ordered numbered they still must be sent questionnaires, given physical examinations and classifications.

TWO BIG TANKS PREPARED FOR TRIP OVER SEA

CHICAGO, July 26—Two 28-ton tanks, the first of 500 to be built for Great Britain by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company, were enroute to the eastern seaboard today for shipment across the Atlantic.

The tanks, it was reported, will be fitted with armament at Philadelphia. They will mount a 75 mm. gun, a 35 mm. gun, and four machine guns. The tanks will carry a crew of seven and are capable of developing a speed of 45 miles per hour.

Pullman officials predicted a full production schedule of 50 tanks a month at Hammond, Ind., plant by September.

Variety Of Film Entertainment Is Provided

"PEOPLE Versus Kildare" is the Circle Theatre's Sunday attraction with Lew Ayers and Lionel Barrymore in the leading roles. Also on the program is Roy Rogers in "Colorado."

MADELEINE Carroll and Fred MacMurray meet in a war-harried London during an air-raid. But Fred, an American aviator on the loose, quickly forgets the bomb siren for the blonde siren. The merry-mad couple furnishes comedy in "One Night in Lisbon," opening Sunday at the Clifton Theatre.

To catch wild elephants in the heart of the jungle, Frank Buck had to build a giant stockade, and only with the aid of tamed, trained elephants could this be done. This scene is from Buck's "Jungle Cavalcade," full of a thousand thrills, which opens Sunday at the Grand Theatre for a four day run.

F. D. R. ORDERS PHILIPPINES ON WAR TIME BASIS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 26—President Roosevelt today directed that the Philippine army be called into the service of the United States for the period of the existing emergency.

The President's proclamation was in the form of a military order.

The effect will be to put the Philippines on a war-time basis, with all military forces on the islands being placed under a general officer.

Naval components are similarly affected, these units being placed under command of the commandant of the 16th Naval District.

HARRY DENMAN'S MOTHER DIES; FUNERAL IS TUESDAY

Mrs. Jennie Clemons Denman, 78, died Saturday at 6 a. m. at her home, 91 West California Avenue, Columbus, after a few days' illness. She was the mother of Harry B. Denman of 313 South Washington Street, local manager of the Ohio Water Service Co., and was a former resident of Circleville.

Mrs. Denman was the widow of Charles H. Denman who died about two years ago. Born October 5, 1862, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clemons, the family home being on Watt Street.

She leaves two sons, Sam F. and Lee, and two daughters, Mrs. Martha Johnson and Mrs. Frances Ertley of Columbus in addition to Mr. Denman of Circleville. The four surviving grandchildren are Harry, Lawrence and Charles Denman and Robert Ertley. Another son, Andrew Denman, died about one and one-half years ago.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Merrick Funeral Home, North High Street, with burial in Memorial Cemetery.

Because of the large number of local investigations asked by FBI authorities, Capt. E. E. Clark, chief of detectives, appointed Detectives George Ritz and Frank Burnosky to full-time duty to investigate such activities.

QUESTION: A so-called tree man told me that he could protect my shade trees from the beetles that were eating the leaves by treating the soil around the base of the tree. He did up the soil, put in two different kinds of material and only charged $6 per tree. Do you recommend this treatment for the control of beetles eating the foliage. Telephone query from Columbus.

ANSWER: This is just another example of some quack trying to make easy money. No soil treatment could possibly control the pests on the foliage of your trees.

If you had the trees sprayed with the necessary arsenate or lead by a competent and reliable tree man, unless it was an enormously large tree, the cost would not be anywhere near the $6.

QUESTION: I recently saw a tree with a leaf somewhat like a honey locust and a very fine feathery flower which was lavender-pink in color. I was told it was a mimosa. Can you tell me what the proper name of this tree would be? L. M., Cincinnati.

ANSWER: Although the true mimosa is not hardy here in the north, the tree that I imagine you saw is a tree that often is called mimosa. The proper name is Albizia.

If you get the variety Julibrissin rosea it will usually be hardy in all except the coldest parts of Ohio.

Even then, if it dies down to the ground, it will grow up again. The flowers very much resemble those of the lavender flowered meadowrue or Thalictrum. It is a very lovely tree and is worth trying here in Ohio.

QUESTION: How do you make a compost pile such as you are always talking about in your talks and articles?

ANSWER: A compost pile is

QUESTION: My lawn has broadleaf weeds and dandelions because of going without attention over a season before I purchased it from the builder. They have gained such a head start that hand weeding is an endless job. I would like to know the proper method of eradicating weeds with chemical solutions. At what height should a lawn mower blade be set? I would like to buy a book on lawn care that is not too complicated. Last fall I had the lawn reseeded and filled at quite a cost but evidently the party did nothing about the weeds as this spring

I have the lawn plenty filled with green but about half of it is weeds so I am out to learn a little about lawns myself. A. C. B., Cincinnati.

ANSWER: Although various recommendations have been made by different individuals and institutions in regard to the control of weeds in the lawn by the use of chemicals, I do not feel that these various chemical methods have reached the point where I want to recommend them to the general public. I still feel that when a lawn is so full of weeds that hand weeding is not practical, the best thing to do is to have it plowed up and reseeded. This is best done in August or September so that the grass has a chance to start in the fall whereas the weeds do not start until spring.

As long as you use only vegetable matter like this it will have practically no odor, if any, and will not draw flies. In a year's time it should be sufficiently decomposed to use as a mulch or top dressing for your flower beds, roses, and other plants or as humus to incorporate with the soil in preparing new flower beds or even for the vegetable garden.

If these reports are substantiated, the Rosenberg ministry will be the core of a gigantic network designed to govern Russia with a firm hand and transform it into an organized productive region of immense proportions.

So far there has been no official confirmation of these reports and no concrete details have been issued. But German circles said that in any event the occupied territory in the east will be shorn of all danger of any recurrence of Bolshevik ideology or colossal political ambitions beyond its own borders."

nothing more than the accumulated plant rubbish from your yard: tree leaves in the fall, weeds during the summer, corn husks, pea pods, watermelon rind, and similar material. Simply pile this up in the back corner of your yard, hide it by a little picket fence if necessary, and allow it to decompose. As long as you use only vegetable matter like this it will have practically no odor, if any, and will not draw flies. In a year's time it should be sufficiently decomposed to use as a mulch or top dressing for your flower beds, roses, and other plants or as humus to incorporate with the soil in preparing new flower beds or even for the vegetable garden.

Although it is often recommended that chemicals be applied to this compost to hasten its decomposition, I have felt that with the amount of water it takes it is not worth the effort. The artificial manure that results when chemicals are added has to be used in relatively small quantities but you can use the ordinary compost in large quantities without any danger of injury to the plants.

Our lawn specialists tell us that grass should be cut from 1 1/2 to 2 inches above the ground. Since I take it you have already secured a copy of our lawn bulletin from your local county agent, I would like to suggest for a book on this subject that you get Sprague's new book "Lawns."

QUESTION: My American Beauty roses were so beaten down while blooming by the recent rains and they appear so twisted I would like to trim and prune now. Is it too early to do so? I usually trim about the last of July and they are more beautiful each year. L. G. T., Upper Sandusky.

ANSWER: There is no reason why you cannot prune the twisted and bent tops of your American Beauty roses or any other roses back down to the sound part. You will get new breaks from the leaf bud nearest the cut and it will bloom in from a month to six weeks.

QUESTION: I recently saw a tree with a leaf somewhat like a honey locust and a very fine feathery flower which was lavender-pink in color. I was told it was a mimosa. Can you tell me what the proper name of this tree would be? L. M., Cincinnati.

ANSWER: Although the true mimosa is not hardy here in the north, the tree that I imagine you saw is a tree that often is called mimosa. The proper name is Albizia.

If you get the variety Julibrissin rosea it will usually be hardy in all except the coldest parts of Ohio.

Even then, if it dies down to the ground, it will grow up again. The flowers very much resemble those of the lavender flowered meadowrue or Thalictrum. It is a very lovely tree and is worth trying here in Ohio.

QUESTION: How do you make a compost pile such as you are always talking about in your talks and articles?

ANSWER: A compost pile is

FROM time immemorial, honey has been held in high esteem, and has been regarded as a symbol of luxury and plenty. Today we know that honey is more than a delicious natural sweet. We know that it has tremendous healthful and wholesome properties, and that most of us do not get enough of this wonderful food.

With the thought that honey should have a larger place in the culinary scheme of things, we pass on some grand recipes.

Honey with Chicken

For a delicious chicken dish, cut a 3-3/4 pound frying chicken into serving sized pieces and season with salt and pepper. Dust with flour. Arrange in flat baking dish or roaster. Pour 4 tablespoons melted butter on top. Place in hot oven, uncovered, 1/2 hour to brown; then reduce heat to moderate. Mix one cup rich milk with

JAPANESE SHIP LOCATIONS BIG MYSTERY IN U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26—The 17,500 ton Japanese luxury liner, Tatata Maru, once again was the mystery of the seas today.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner was among approximately 40 Japanese ships which received pre-emptory orders from Tokyo two days ago to stop in mid-ocean and await further instructions.

These orders were issued from Tokyo after Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles informed the Japanese government that the United States regarded its move in Indo-China as a menace to this nation's security.

Following President Roosevelt's order freezing Japanese assets in the United States, a statement from NYK's San Francisco offices said:

"Some delay in the arrival of the Tatata Maru at San Francisco is anticipated."

"The NYK line hopes to be able to make a further announcement concerning schedules shortly. But we cannot give any definite advice at this time."

It was indicated, however, that NYK officials did not expect the Tatata to arrive at San Francisco this morning—more than 48 hours past her original scheduled arrival.

Tatata alone appeared to be the only authority for the course of the Tatata which is carrying a $3,500,000 silk cargo, consigned to New Jersey mills. The President's action in freezing Japanese credits complicated the status of the silk cargo.

Nearly 100 Americans homeward bound from the Orient are among the Tatata's list of 247 passengers.

CITY MEN ARRESTED

Failure to provide $1,500 bond in Justice of Peace B. T. Hedges' court on statutory charges placed Harry Brown, York Street, in County Jail Saturday. Charges were filed against Brown by Juvenile Officer Festus Walters and concerned Brown's 11-year-old step-daughter, Irene Mace.

U. S. AND BRITAIN CRACK DOWN ON JAPS

U. S. BOMBERS SEE SERVICE IN BRITAIN AND FAR EAST

NATIVES at Singapore, British stronghold in the Far East, are seen an American-made Brewster fighting plane, above, to reinforce the RAF, which has been expanded greatly in the Orient recently because of the mounting tension created by a threatened Japanese move southward. Both the British at Singapore and the Dutch in the Netherlands East Indies now have large numbers of American-made warplanes.

ARMY DESERTER ESCAPES JAIL AT LANCASTER

Youth, 18, And Another Held In Fairfield County, Beat Deputy With Brooms

LANCASTER, July 26—An 18-year-old army deserter was sought by authorities today after he escaped from the Fairfield County jail following a fierce struggle in which he and another prisoner attacked Deputy Sheriff George Young, 42, with broom handles.

Young, although bludgeoned severely, held Perry Long, 18, of Toledo, after John Zornes, the deserter, had escaped through the jail kitchen.

According to the deputy sheriff, the attack occurred when he entered the jail bull pen to make the regular check of the prisoners. Zornes fled while he was subduing Long, Young said.

Zornes, records showed, was released from the Boy's Industrial School last July when he requested permission to enlist in the army. He deserted Camp Shelby, Miss., early in the spring and was arrested in Ironton, O., following an auto theft there June 4.

Long and three juveniles walked away from the school April 10 and were captured by Delaware authorities in a stolen car. The others, Young said, were returned to the school while Long was lodged in the county jail.

BODIES OF TWO BOYS RECOVERED FROM RIVER

DEFIANCE, July 26—Coroner Fred W. Watkins said two four-year-old boys, whose bodies were recovered from the Auglaize River at Defiance, probably fell into the stream from a four-foot retaining wall at the edge of the city-owned Kingsbury Park. The victims, Robert Colwell and Richard Tracy, were clad in bathing trunks.

EX-CHAMPION ANNOUNCES HE AND WIFE RECONCILED

DENVER, July 26—Friends today heard a cheerful little earful about Jack Dempsey and his wife, the former Hannah Williams.

The former heavyweight champion, now touring the Colorado canebreakers with a wrestling troupe, revealed in Denver that he and the one-time stage star were reconciled about two months ago following a long period of estrangement.

Plans for a vacation next month at Lake Tahoe, Nev., have been temporarily abandoned because Mrs. Dempsey recently was taken ill at their New York home, Dempsey said.

The couple's two children will join him at Salt Lake City next week for a week's stay with his mother, the former champion said.

HEAVY GERMAN LOSSES NOTED IN FIERCE WAR

Russians Report Casualties; Nazis Cite New Successes in Ukraine, Bessarabia

MOSCOW, July 26—“Heavy losses” suffered by the Germans in fierce fighting during the night were announced by the Russian command today.

“Last night,” said a new war communiqué, “stubborn fighting continued in the districts of Polotsk-Neval and Smolensk (facing Moscow) and on the Zhitomir sector (southwest of Kiev in the Ukraine.)

The Germans suffered heavy losses.”

In a previous communiqué the high command announced heavy fighting all along the front with the Russian forces still holding firm against Nazi assaults.

Meanwhile, the Moscow radio quoted S. A. Lozovsky, deputy foreign commissar, as stating documents captured by Russian troops show that the Germans are “secretly planning a sudden attack on the territory, liberty and independence of the Turkish republic.”

“The city is now short of funds, the police department is undermanned and city council has made no appropriation to appoint additional patrolmen. This will be required to abide by the law and give the citizens of Circleville proper police protection. I felt that the members of the police department could cooperate to the extent of continuing the present schedule until after the primary election, when the question of finances will be decided by the vote of the people on the one and one-half mill tax levy.”

He declared the Germans were forming these plans “under cover of lying allegations about the USSR” entertaining fantastic plans of aggression against Turkey.” He added the Turkish government would be “duly informed.”

“The first crash occurred Thursday afternoon in a corn field near Cardington, killing two U. S. Army Air Corps pilots. The second Lockheed bomber ground looped as it was taking off from Patterson field yesterday morning, caught fire and was demolished. The two pilots escaped injury.

Both bombers were en route to Montreal, Canada, where they were to be ferried across the ocean to Great Britain.

“I'll never eat another morsel until I'm cleared of these false charges.”

Mrs. Jaffray and her son Robert, 23, were arrested July 9 and are scheduled for trial in November on charges of second degree arson for alleged complicity in setting a fire which destroyed their chicken hatchery.

Robert started the hunger strike with his mother, and claims to have lost 30 pounds, but Sheriff Arthur G. Tessmer said he had been eating for the last week.

“He says he is throwing his food out the jail window, but we haven't found any food that has been thrown away, and his plate is clean after every meal,” the sheriff said.

Mrs. Jaffray said she has lost 50 pounds from her original weight of 250.

“My conscience is clear,” she said. “I had nothing to do with the fire and in time they'll find that out.”

The state charges the hatchery was burned to collect $18,500 insurance. The Jaffrays' hired man, Clyde Weaver, pleaded guilty to charges of arson, and implicated his employers, declaring Mrs. Jaffray induced him to set the fire on the promise of a lifetime job.

THE NON-INTERVENTIONISTS, leaders said, will fight the declaration of a national emergency and a statement that the nation is in peril. They also will seek a new ban on sending an American expeditionary force to Europe.

With the Senate Military Affairs Committee in tentative agreement on major provisions of a bill to extend service of national guardsmen, seafarers and reserves beyond one year, the Senate may open debate on the measure on Monday.

The non-interventionists, leaders said, will fight the declaration of a national emergency and a statement that the nation is in peril. They also will seek a new ban on sending an American expeditionary force to Europe.

THE VICTIMS OF THE CRASH were Mrs. Florence Rayburn, 38, of Monticello, O., and Mrs. Marie Meyer, 43, of Delphos. Mrs. Meyer's husband, E. W. Meyer, Delphos chiropractor, was reported in critical condition.

John C. Rayburn and Miss Mildred Rayburn, 18, husband and daughter of the other victim, escaped with bruises. Death of the two victims brings the 1941 Allen County traffic toll to 22.

Two other persons injured in the crash remained in critical condition. They are Barbara Worley, 18, and Mary Cress, 18, both of West Milton.

Jack Eileman, 19, of Troy, driver of an automobile with four persons en route to a picnic, and Edward D. Gilliard, 52, driver of the truck, was killed instantly in the crash.

Probate court officials appointed George Adkins as guardian of the widow.

AN American-made, four-motored Flying Fortress is pictured above taking off from an English airfield for the surprise raid on Nazi-occupied Brest, France, in which bombs dropped on the German battleship Gneisenau from a “fantastic” height. Probers Deny Sabotage In Three Air Crashes

DAYTON, July 26—Army Air Corps authorities at Wright Field and in Washington today began an investigation into the crashes of two British-bound twin-motored bombing planes and an army bomber bearing official mail to the nation's capital.

The mail plane crashed yesterday afternoon in a wheat field near Newark, O. It was the third crash within 24 hours in central Ohio.

The plane's crew said a motor cut out and that when they attempted to make an emergency landing the landing gear was jammed. None of the three men in the plane was injured.

Meanwhile, Air Corps officials at Patterson and Wright Fields, army air bases at Dayton, insisted there was no evidence of sabotage in the two RAF planes.

GLENCOE, Minn., July 26—Mrs. Eleanor Jaffray, 42, today began her 18th day of a hunger strike with the declaration:

“I'll never eat another morsel until I'm cleared of these false charges.”

Mrs. Jaffray and her son Robert, 23, were arrested July 9 and are scheduled for trial in November on charges of second degree arson for alleged complicity in setting a fire which destroyed their chicken hatchery.

Germany also was irked. Berlin newspapers accused the United States of attempting to cause war in the Far East.

In Tokyo the Japanese government prepared to strike back. The Netherlands East Indies prepared to take similar action.

In addition, the British government informed Japan of London's intention to denounce all existing commercial treaties.

In the United States and Canada Chinese assets also were frozen at request of the Chungking government to prevent the Japanese from using them.

The Japanese government is not surprised by the freezing of assets and is prepared to take effective and appropriate steps in response to the American action.”

Foreign Minister Toyoda and Finance Minister Ogura submitted special reports to Emperor Hirohito—a sure sign that Japan is taking the matter seriously.

Authorities said some measures already have been devised and made effective to counter the British and American blow, which the Japanese have anticipated since last June. But it was pointed out that the blow nevertheless was a heavy one, especially since the bulk of Japan's Latin American trade has been carried on through the medium of dollar exchange via the United States.

WASHINGTON, July 26—Latest Department of Commerce figures today listed the following American and Japanese assets affected by “freezing” orders issued by the two nations.

United States investments in Japan: short term, $67,000,000; direct investments, $45,000,000; government bonds, $105,000,000; total, $217,000,000.

No relief from Circleville's latest heat wave was promised Saturday by the weatherman, as city and country folk continued to swelter under 90-degree temperatures.

Friday's high was 95, the hottest day since July 1 and Saturday's low was 68. The barometer was steady. Ervin Leist, local weather observer said, an indication of continued fair weather.

Agreement Reached

The United States and Britain delivered their economic punch just as the Japanese and Vichy governments announced a joint agreement for mutual defense of Indo-China.

Japan, the Tokyo and Vichy governments stated, promised to respect the territorial integrity and French sovereignty of the strategic Far Eastern colony.

A Reuters (British) dispatch from Singapore said terms of the Franco-Japanese defense pact include these provisions:

1—Japanese occupation of the strategic naval base at Camranh Bay.

2—Occupation of the Saigon air base.

3—Stationing of 40,000 Japanese troops in Indo-China—to be fed by Indo-China, with arrangements to pay for this food to be made “later.”

OPM officials said the campaign would mean no advance in scrap metal prices.

Japan replied in kind today to President Roosevelt's action in freezing Japanese assets in the United States.

The Tokyo government announced that it is freezing all United States assets in Japan.

Britain also cracked down on Japan by freezing Nipponese assets throughout the British Empire, but whether Tokyo would take similar action against the British was not immediately known.

Meanwhile the American government assumed supreme control over all United States-Japanese trade and prepared for a major offensive against any Japanese subversive activities on American soil.

Retaliating for the Japanese move into French Indo-China, President Roosevelt impounded Japanese assets worth $130,000,000 and temporarily halted all movement between the two nations.

Keeping pace with the United States, Britain froze all Japanese assets throughout the British Empire. The Netherlands East Indies prepared to take similar action.

In addition, the British government informed Japan of London's intention to denounce all existing commercial treaties.

Grove Rings Up His 300th Win

Boston Star Puts Himself In Class Alone As Outstanding Lefthander Of All Time; Yanks Go On; Dodgers, Reds, Cards Lose

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, July 26—We doff our sombrero today to the greatest left-handed pitcher of all time—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove of the Boston Red Sox.

And if anybody doubts it, we are prepared to offer the following facts to bolster our case:

Lefty yesterday turned in his 300th Major League victory, a feat accomplished by only four others since the turn of the century—Grover Cleveland Alexander, Cy Young, Eddie Plank and Walter Johnson—immortals all.

In the last 40 years there have been four outstanding southpaws—

Rube Wardell, Eddie Plank, Herb Pennock and Lefty Grove—and old Connie Mack, who managed them all says Grove was the star of them all and Connie's judgment is good enough for us.

Now that is all. When speedy pitchers are up for discussion only four names are ever mentioned—Walter Johnson, Bob Feller, Dazzy Vance and Lefty Grove. And most baseball veterans agree Grove was only a shade, if that, less fast than Johnson.

They said Connie Mack was crazy when he paid Baltimore $105,000 for Lefty back in 1925. Yes, Connie was crazy—just like a fox. For in the next nine years Lefty won 195 games for the Athletics or an average of 22 a year and turned in four World Series victories.

TOPS LEAGUE MANY TIMES

And during that time Lefty led the league four times in games won, five times in earned run averages, four times in winning percentages and seven straight years in strikeouts.

Then Connie sold him to Boston for $125,000 or $20,000 more than he had paid for Lefty nine years before. How crazy would you say Mr. Mack was?

Since joining the Red Sox in 1935 Lefty has lead the league in earned run averages four times.

He has topped both leagues in earned run averages nine years and for five years led everybody in won and lost percentages.

The only incident that marred the proceedings was black eye that Fred Moeller, Lancaster Pike gardener, received when a pitched ball struck him.

Well, have we proved our case? Okeh, then we can move on to remind you that the Yanks increased their lead to 11 games by blanking the White Sox, 8-0, for their seventh straight victory. Spud Chandler held the White Sox to three hits and Charley Keller weighed in with Homer No. 25 and Tommy Henrich with No. 18.

The Athletics moved within a game of the first division by trouncing the sliding Tigers, 11-5 and the Browns bounced out of the cellar by downing the Sena tors, 5-3.

There was joy in Pittsburgh and corresponding gloom in Brooklyn as the Pirates took a doubleheader from the Dodgers, 8-4 and 8-2. That made seven straight for the Pirates and moved them up to third place in the standings.

REDS, CARDS LOSE

The Reds fell victim to long Tom Hughes of the Phillies, 4-3, and in a night game in St. Louis, the five game winning streak of Cards was stopped by Jim Tohn as the seventh place Boston Brav es copped an 8 to 0 victory.

Church of Christ Campmeeting Date August 20; Record Crowd Expected

Lack Of Space Means Some Will Be Unable To Attend Sessions

With the opening of the Church of Christ campmeeting on East Ohio Street less than a month away, campground officials are making preparations to accommodate one of the largest crowds ever to attend the ten-day religious program.

The Rev. O. L. Ferguson, pastor of the local church, said Saturday that he expected this year's attendance to break records of previous years by a substantial number. Already, facilities for housing visitors during the meeting have been filled and if reservations continue to come in many will have to be cancelled because of lack of space, the Rev. Mr. Ferguson declared.

Work on the Mount of Praise grounds will start a week from Monday, according to Rev. Ferguson in order that the grounds may be ready for the opening day August 20. The campmeeting will close on August 31.

Evangelists for the services include the Rev. T. M. Anderson, the Rev. Bone Fleming and the Rev. John Church. E. Clay Milby will be the song evangelist and the Rev. Edna Leonard the children's evangelist.

Service hours will be 7 a. m., 8 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 1 p. m., 2 p. m., 6 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. The campground committee includes the Rev. Mr. Ferguson, the Rev. E. A. Sager and the Rev. E. A. Keaton.

We thank God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God, ye received it not as of men, but as the word of God.

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.

In Paul's epistles, says Peter, are some things hard to understand, which some who are unlearned and unstable quote to their own destruction.

It was needful to me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith, wrote St. Jude, (GOLDEN TEXT—II Tim. 3:16)

OVER 1,000 TAKE PART IN U. B. CAMP SESSION

With crowds which campmeeting officials already have estimated over 1,000, the twenty-fourth annual Stoutsburg campmeeting was expected to draw an even larger attendance as it went its first Sunday program. The campmeeting opened Tuesday.

Sunday will be Brotherhood day at the campgrounds, with all brotherhoods invited to participate in the day's services. A special invitation has been extended to men of churches which do not have brotherhood organizations.

The campmeeting will close Wednesday with a business and stockholders meeting and an election of officers.

Evangelists at the grounds include Dr. Dewey Whitwell and Dr. P. E. Wright. Children's workers are Mrs. Marc and Mrs. Eskew and evangelist, Lena Houseshell.

Musical portion of the services is being directed by the Kutch sisters of Lebanon, Pa. Officers of the camp are H. O. Davis, Jacksonsville, president; C. F. Lutz, Westerville, vice-president; the Rev. L. S. Metzler, Circleville, secretary and O. E. Drum, Ashville, treasurer.

REPORT OF CAMP VISIT SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

During the Sunday School hour at First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning Donnajan Howell will give a report of her recent experiences at Camp Indiana. Joan and Elizabeth Downing will speak on the Young People's Conference which they attended last week at Wooster. Dr. F. C. Schaeffer, superintendent, will be in charge of the program. Classes are open to every age group in this school. The school will close during August and will reopen in September.

The pastor, Rev. Robert T. Kelley, will speak Sunday morning during the worship hour on "How God Speaks Today."

Miss Mary Kathryn Pile will sing a solo entitled "Spirit of God" by Neidlinger during this service. Miss Abbe Mills Clarke will play at the organ "Largo" by Handel, "Elegy" by Massenet, and "Triumphant March" by Verdi, an all request program.

The service will be the last for the pastor until after his vacation. No Sunday School or worship services will be held at the church until September 7.

WASHINGTON'S OUTFIELD

ONE of the most brilliant and public-spirited dollar-a-year men at Washington, Manufacturer John D. Biggers of Toledo, thinks the national system could be improved with less field work.

Baseball, he observes, is a game in which the batter must touch all three bases before coming home, but in Washington the batter has a much bigger run-around. He thinks the defense administration will be really effective when the batter can follow the normal route to third base without roaming all over the lot.

That may be attended to in time. But time is, as the lawyers say, "of the essence."

ALUMINUM

"POTS and pans, pots and pans—any old pots and pans today? Aluminum for Uncle Sam! Pots and pans—pots and pans!"

So it goes, as the kitchens and basements and backyards and junk piles of a nation are ransacked for old aluminum ware to turn over to the government as material for military planes. Aluminum seems to be the most essential metal in this crucial war. And before the world has settled down again, we may be actually clearing our kitchens of all aluminum, old or new, to insure victory for freedom.

It is strange, the importance assumed by this metal which, only 40 years ago, was unfamiliar to most people and rated as a curiosity. Also by other light, tough metals, used largely in alloys, such as magnesium and manganese. Forty years from now we shall doubtless be using, singly or in combination, many another metallic element that we hardly recognize now.

GROWING AIR POWER

THE recent aggressiveness of the British Air Force is remarkable. It comes only in part from the withdrawal of German planes for the assault on Russia. The biggest factor may be increased production.

Both in England and in America the output of fighting planes and bombers has risen greatly. A current report says the two countries together are now producing one-third more warplanes a month than Germany. According to American Machinist, total world production of planes is now about 8,000 a month, of which Germany is credited with 2,500, Russia 2,000, Britain 1,800 and the United States 1,500. Thus Britain and America together are turning out 3,300 planes a month, and gaining steadily.

In comparison, Japan's production of 300 planes a month seems rather pitiful.

Obviously little danger need be feared from her air force by any first-rate power.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up grumpily and fully decided that not only the corn is in need of a cooling rain. Drove until well past the last midnight seeking escape from the heat, and finally finding a slight measure of relief in the Fox Postoffice neighborhood. Thought of Clark Hunsicker and his statement that while corn still promises a great crop, the grain is much in need of moisture.

Found nothing in the morning prints, so did crank the wagon and head downtown. Saw Judge Meeker out early and met Byron Eby who told of finding a guinea in his chicken yard and how it soared away over the housetop when he was approached. Believed it to be a wild one. Chatted with Jay Clark, who with his wife and son is turning longing eyes toward the north fishland.

Ran into Joe Adkins, who two years ago prepared a $100,000 defamatory of character suit against me, only to settle for a due bill on a cup of coffee. The day being hot enough I insisted that he take immediate payment, which he did with not too much relish, declaring that the bill had run long enough already.

John Heiskell stopped and showed me a picture of a six and one-half pound catfish he landed on Darby Creek. Called on Sheriff Charlie Radcliff and thanked him for the use of two rolls of colored movie film taken in Arizona. As fine pictures, really, as anyone will see. Passed the time of day with Ben Gordon, candidate for mayor, snapped a picture of Roy Groce and inspected that new store building in West Main Street. What an establishment that is soon to be!

Did you know that Jiggs Carle? Most folk hereabouts did. Quite an institution for sixteen years and three months. He is dead, and Mrs. Charles Carle finds that his passing has left quite a void. Just a fox terrier, but he wiggled his way into many hearts. I patted him many times up North Court Street way when he appeared at my former residence. I hope Jiggs in the dog hereafter finds plenty of cats to chase, a full food bowl and a kind hand.

John Moore is really proud of that Jerry M horse of his. Well, he should be, a horse that can cover ground as he does. About 75 from the village cheered Jerry M as he won that race in Washington C. H. this week. Others have cheered him much since. The scrawner was more interested in a story about Jerry M the colt. How he was reared in a lot behind John's place of business, and how he loved to sneak in the back door and nibble free lunch snacks. And how, when he grew too large to enter through the door, he would stick in his head and beg for attention. One may gather that I am not much of a track fan. But I do like horses, all kinds of horses.

Mary Wilder, the former librarian, told me of sending packages of food to relatives in England. Tea and chocolate and cheese, gelatin and the like that are almost impossible to obtain over there. Five pounds the limit and not more than two pounds of any one commodity. And of letters of appreciation she has received. Were I over there my request would be for nerve tonic. Gallons and gallons of it. Yes, those English have what it takes to win a war.

DIET AND HEALTH

Swimming the Ideal Form of Exercise

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Swimming is the ideal form of exercise because it calls into play the general body musculature and produces the elongated, smoothly functioning type of muscle in a uniformly developed body. This is the opinion of an eminent physician, as well as an expert swimmer, Dr. David Mezz, of Brooklyn.

This should be good news in this season of swimming. Natural water is best—the ocean, the lake, the river. The ocean is saturated with oxygen that it detoxifies all noxious matter almost instantly. Sea animals are so used to a high oxygen content in their environment that they will hardly live an hour in a bucket of sea water that can not renew its vitalizing force.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Safe Swimming Pools

Modern hygiene and the work of sanitary engineers have made artificial pools safe and comfortable. The bacterial content of the water, cleanliness of the bathers, laundering of suits, maintenance of sanitary conditions on the premises have led to great reduction in the incidence of disease conditions from swimming pools.

Filtration of the water, and reduction of bacteria by ultraviolet ray or passage of the water through ozonating machines or the chemical treatment of the water by chlorine do not make the water at all harmful and have eliminated a great deal of contamination and cross infections.

Swimming, although ideal from the standpoint of the number of muscles used and the way they are used, is subject to some hazards. The fact that the body is sustained and suspended by the specific gravity of the water makes swimming seem less effortless than it really is and leads to tempting the swimmer to exertion beyond his powers. It is a common experience of swimmers to be surprised at the amount of fatigue they feel after what they thought was a moderate amount of exercise.

Limit Time in Water

Then too, the water as a medium keeps the body cool, and there is no warning sense of overheating to tell the swimmer he has had enough. Dr. Taylor and Dr. Dayenforth in a recent study concluded that body chilling from swimming caused definite changes which predispose to infections of the nose and ears.

The number of white cells in the blood is reduced on the surface of the body and the protective powers of the fixed tissue cells are reduced as well as a change in the mucous membrane of the nose. This from chilling alone, to say nothing of the washing away of the protective coating of mucus in the nose and the shrinking of the mucous membrane from the effect of the water.

The warning is very definite and applies to all, even the strongest and most confident swimmer. The limit of bathing time should be 45 minutes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. F.:—"Is a child born of a parent who suffers likely to inherit this speech defect? Can such imperfection be corrected?"

Answer: There is no hereditary tendency in stammering. Stammering can be corrected in many cases, but the methods of treatment vary and all require great patience.

R. R.:—"What causes kidney stones? Does drinking coffee cause them?"

Answer: Nearly every article of diet has been accused of causing kidney stones, but none has been definitely proved to do so.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "How to Stop Smoking", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

Todays Horoscope

Is your birthday today? The next year will be fraught with obstacles, family anxieties and sudden upheavals, although some good fortune will come your way. You should safeguard your health and that of your womenfolk. The child born on this date will have many setbacks and disappointments to contend with, but financial help will be forthcoming. The health of such a child will need extra care.

Castle of Contentment

By LORENA CARLETON

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SYNOPSIS

YLENA VARANOFF, young and pretty wife of

THEODORE VINCENT, wealthy easterner, arrives in La Madera. She sends

ROSE, housekeeper for

VERNON STONE, the Vincent family in the early stock east to keep it informed about

CARLYLE, Ylena's little daughter, who is in the custody of Vincent's mother, Ylena, meets two young men in La Madera. One,

THE CROMWELL'S, is arrogant, self-confident of his way with women. The other,

SCOTT HAMILTON, is a pleasant young dude rancher.

YESTERDAY: After watching Scott with Ylena, Tate visits her at her home. "I'm not married," Tate says. "You're intended to be my wife."

CHAPTER EIGHT

AS QUICKLY as he had said:

"You're intended to be my wife," Tate warned himself. "Be careful, Sap! You'll be trapped. Not by Ylena. She scarcely has looked at you. But by yourself, which is worse!"

Intent on his own fears, he missed the jocular, skeptical expression on Ylena's face. Again he turned to her. "I'll get you the profit," he promised speedily, "be cause—oh, Lord, Ylena, how does a person say, 'Do you believe in love at first sight?' without sounding like a fool?"

The girl laughed. "I'm afraid there is no way to make a ridiculous statement sound any other way."

"It isn't ridiculous," he corrected. "It's painfully true. I fell in love with you that day you stepped into my office."

"You mean the day you kissed the receptionist clerk's hand?" She shook her head. "Don't forget, Tate. That a person in love is an awful dope." Young Cromwell's dark-blue eyes failed to respond to Ylena's joking repetition of his own statement. "But that's absurd," she hastened to say. "I've been here months and you've made few attempts to see me."

"You've missed me!" he cried sagerly.

She said, not truthfully, "I haven't thought about you. I've had other things on my mind."

"I know," he said sullenly. "The mountain-shouldered Scott Hamilton."

Again Tate turned to her. "Don't talk, Tate." Along her dry throat, words traveled hoarsely. "Don't say a word. Be careful!"

"Who is it?" he asked without looking at her. And wondered why he was asked, when actually he knew.

"It's Theodore Vincent," the girl quavered.

Theodore Vincent stepped nearer and said, "Thanks for the stuttering introduction." He made an iron, wobbly bow.

Ylena managed to leap to her feet and confront the man who was responsible for all her trouble.

Young Cromwell stepped to her side. The three stood immovable.

Back of Theodore's slouching body, blinding rain poured from black skies.

"It's well you're getting rid of this place, Ylena. You shouldn't live here alone."

"Nonsense!" she lied. "I'm not afraid." Despite her courageous assertion, she shivered violently. She added several fresh blocks of wood to the fire before rejoining Tate.

Again he turned that avid, wide-eyed stare upon her. "You know, Ylena, I've had great luck with my love affairs. I can't understand this sudden lack of confidence where you're concerned. I've wanted to kiss you since I saw you the first time, not just on your cheek as I would my 70-year-old, but on your beautiful, beauteous face."</

Rader-Hastings Wedding Vows Read Friday Eve

Quiet Ceremony Conducted In Church

Miss Hazel Rowena Hastings daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hastings of near Williamsport, and Mr. George William Rader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rader of 317 East Mill Street, were united in marriage Friday evening, the quiet wedding taking place in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Robert T. Kelsay performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and close friends of the couple.

The bride chose a smart summer frock of poudre blue for her wedding. Her sister, Miss Mary Hastings, was her only attendant. Her dress was of navy blue.

Mr. Robert Kibler served as best man for Mr. Rader.

About 25 were asked to the Rader home, East Mill Street, for an informal reception following the wedding.

Masses of summer garden flowers made the home attractive for the occasion. A large wedding cake centered the table in the dining room where refreshments were served.

Miss Thomas Rader, who is 85 years old, was an honored guest at her grandson's wedding and the reception.

Among the guests were Mrs. Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rader and daughter, Charlotte. Mrs. Charles Niles, Mrs. Oren Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rader and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. George Binkley and Mrs. Victor Brown of Columbus, in addition to the bridal party, and members of the immediate families.

Mr. Rader, who is an accountant at the Neil House, Columbus, and his bride left during the evening for a brief trip.

Mr. Rader will report to his local draft board Thursday, July 31, for examination for Selective Service.

Miss Dreisbach Honored

Miss Maxine Dreisbach, a bride-elect, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower when Miss Helen Mast entertained Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mast, of Washington Township. Miss Dreisbach will become Mrs. Harold Pontius, Sunday, the wedding to be at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Attractive arrangements of roses and gladioli were used in the living rooms of the Mast home.

During the evening, Miss Rosemary Mast, dressed as a southern 'Aunt Jemima', presented Miss Dreisbach a large basket filled with interesting shower gifts. Several beautiful wedding gifts were found by the honor guest, when messages sent her on a treasure hunt through the rooms of the home.

A centerpiece of yellow poppies flanked with tall candles was used on the table in the dining room

CONTRACT BRIDGE

HELPING THE DECLARER

THERE ARE plenty of contracts which the declarer should make, by exactly correct play, regardless of what his opponents may do. But some of them require considerable astuteness on his part to decide upon his course of action, unless the defenders do something which helps guide him. Fine defensive players are particularly careful about giving too accurate information with their discards when they are trying to beat a grand slam contract, for their partner is unlikely to gain the lead and thus be in position to make use of their information. False-carding is recommended in many such situations.

If West leads the heart 3 to the A and East returns the club J, how should South play this hand to make 5-Spades?

South already had a good deal of information about the defenders' holdings when West doubled, and possessed still more when the heart K was led. She was a most optimistic bidder to try the grand slam knowing from her partner's Blackwood responses that two kings were out against her, especially to it in No Trumps. But it was Barbara de Castillo's favorite duplicate game in New York, distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Washington Grange
About 30 grangers attended the regular meeting of Washington Grange, Friday, in the Washington School auditorium when an enjoyable program was presented by the group headed by M. M. Bowman.

After group singing, Mrs. J. W. Bolender offered a reading, "Charity," taken from the Bible; brief remarks by Mr. Bolender were followed by a review of incidents of the early years of the grange.

A quartet arrangement of "Beautiful Dreamer" was presented by Mrs. M. M. Bowman, Miss Mary Katherine and Miss Helen Bowman and Mrs. Karl

DANCE IN COTTON

THE casual cotton dinner dress leads an active life these Summer evenings. For roof garden dining, for informal dances at the country club, for a thousand-and-one warm-weather occasions after dark, nothing takes the place of a cool, washable cotton dance or dinner frock. Some of the nicest are shown in pique, either in white or colors, while embroidered batiste, organdie, sprigged dimity and even gingham are popular runners-up. The styles are simple and youthful, usually with fitted midriff and gracefully flaring skirt. With the whites, you wear colored accessories—with the colors, you wear white finishing touches.

Today's Menu

IF YOU like onions, combine them with potatoes in a scallop. This dish makes a nice accompaniment for a roast or for broiled steaks or chops.

Today's Menu

Onion and Potato Scallop
Buttered Beets
Lettuce with French Dressing
Butter Cake Coffee

Onion And Potato Scallop
Toasted Corn Butter
Flakes Sliced Raw or
Sliced Raw Parboiled
Potatoes Onions
Salt, pepper 1/2 c. milk

Cover bottom of baking dish with rolled corn flakes, add layer of sliced raw potatoes, sprinkle with salt and pepper and bits of butter, add layer of sliced onions, raw or parboiled (whatever you prefer, season this layer and continue the layers, topping with crumbs or corn flakes. Heat milk, melt 1 tablespoon butter in it, pour over contents of casserole and bake at 350 degrees 45-55 minutes.

Butter Cake

2 c. sifted 1 c. sugar
cake flour 2 eggs, well
3 tabs. baking beaten powder 1/4 c. milk
1/4 tsp. salt 1/2 c. shortening
1 tsp. vanilla

Sift flour, mix with baking powder and salt and sift again.

Cream butter, add sugar, gradually, creaming until light and fluffy; stir in well beaten eggs, then add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, stirring well after each addition, and lastly folding in the vanilla. Bake in two layers, cool and frost. This is the standard butter cake recipe.

Caramel Frosting

1 c. brown 1/4 c. milk
sugar Confectioners' sugar
2 tabs. butter

Put brown sugar and butter in sauce pan or frying pan, let come to boil, then add milk, stir well and let boil 3 minutes. When cool add enough confectioners' sugar to make of a consistency to spread well. Spread between layers and on top of cooled cake.

cup water and all the vegetables except the cabbage, which should be cooked separately. Allow vegetables to cook for 20 to 25 minutes, add salt, pepper and second cup water. Lay fish, flesh side down, across vegetables, cover with cooked cabbage and cook all about 5 minutes more. Place fish in the standard butter cake recipe.

A tentative call for two men on the period beginning August 12 was received Saturday but the report is yet to be confirmed by an official order from state headquarters.

Neither the August 8th nor the August 12 call will include any of the 21-year-olds who registered for service on July 1, according to local draft officials, and it is not expected that any of the new registrants will be called into service for at least another month.

Although the 142 new registrants have been ordered numbered they still must be sent questionnaires, given physical examinations and classifications.

TWO BIG TANKS PREPARED FOR TRIP OVER SEA

CHICAGO, July 26—Two 28-ton tanks, the first of 500 to be built for Great Britain by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company, were enroute to the eastern seaboard today for shipment across the Atlantic.

The tanks, it was reported will be fitted with armament at Philadelphia. They will mount a 75 mm. gun, a 35 mm. gun, and four machine guns. The tanks will carry a crew of seven, and are capable of developing a speed of 45 miles per hour.

Pullman officials predicted a full production schedule of 50 tanks a month at Hammond, Ind., plant by September.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding.—Proverbs 4:7.

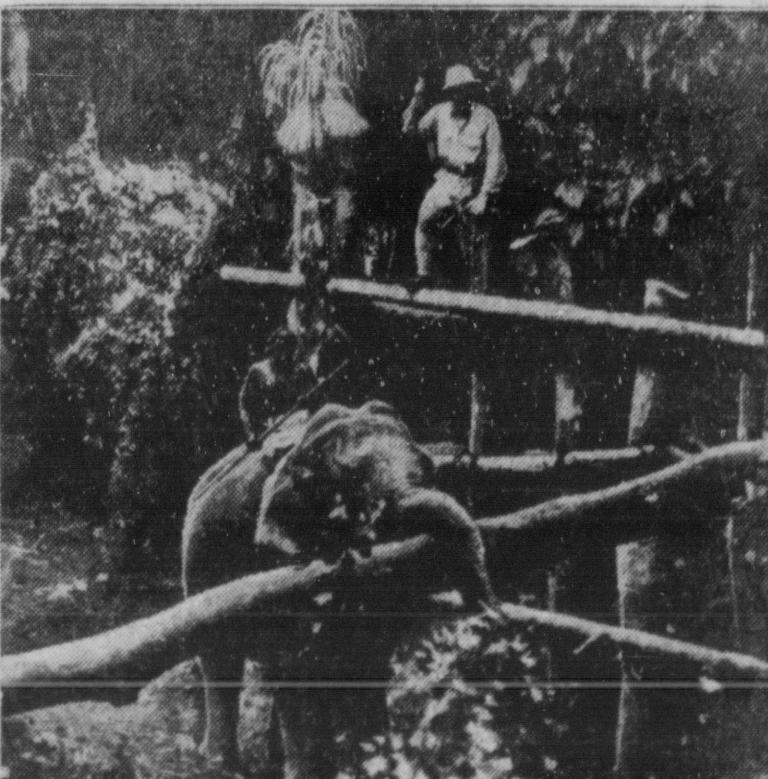

Variety Of Film Entertainment Is Provided

"PEOPLE Versus Kildare" is the Circle Theatre's Sunday attraction with Lew Ayers and Lionel Barrymore in the leading roles. Also on the program is Roy Rogers in "Colorado."

MADELEINE Carroll and Fred MacMurray meet in a war-harried London during an air-raid. But Fred, an American aviator on the loose, quickly forgets the bomb siren for the blonde siren. The merry-mad couple furnishes comedy in "One Night in Lisbon," opening Sunday at the Clifton Theatre.

To catch wild elephants in the heart of the jungle, Frank Buck had to build a giant stockade, and only with the aid of tamed, trained elephants could this be done. This scene is from Buck's "Jungle Cavalcade," full of a thousand thrills, which opens Sunday at the Grand Theatre for a four day run.

F. D. R. ORDERS EVEN NOW, NAZIS PHILIPPINES ON DRAW PLAN FOR WAR TIME BASIS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 26—President Roosevelt today directed that the Philippine army be called into the service of the United States for the period of the existing emergency.

The President's proclamation was in the form of a military order.

The effect will be to put the Philippines on a war-time basis, with all military forces on the islands being placed under a general officer.

Naval components are similarly affected, these units being placed under command of the commandant of the 16th Naval District.

HARRY DENMAN'S MOTHER DIES; FUNERAL IS TUESDAY

Mrs. Jennie Clemons Denman, 78, died Saturday at 6 a. m. at her home, 91 West California Avenue, Columbus, after a few days' illness. She was the mother of Harry B. Denman of 313 South Washington Street, local manager of the Ohio Water Service Co., and was a former resident of Circleville.

Mrs. Denman was the widow of Charles H. Denman who died about two years ago. Born October 5, 1862, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clemons, the family home being on Watt Street.

She leaves two sons, Sam F. and Lee, and two daughters, Mrs. Martha Johnson and Mrs. Frances Ertley of Columbus in addition to Mr. Denman of Circleville. The four surviving grandchildren are Harry, Lawrence and Charles Denman and Robert Ertley. Another son, Andrew Denman, died about one and one-half years ago.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Merrick Funeral Home, North High Street, with burial in Memorial Cemetery.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. REIS,
O. S. U. Horticulturist

QUESTION: My lawn has broadleaf weeds and dandelions because of going without attention over a season before I purchased it from the builder. They have gained such a head start that hand weeding is an endless job. I would like to know the proper method of eradicating weeds with chemical solutions. At what height should a lawn mower blade be set? I would like to buy a book on lawn care that is not too complicated. Last fall I had the lawn reseeded and filled at quite a cost but evidently the party did nothing about the weeds as this spring I have the lawn plenty filled with green but about half of it is weeds.

ANSWER: Although various recommendations have been made by different individuals and institutions in regard to the control of weeds in the lawn by the use of chemicals, I do not feel that these various chemical methods have reached the point where I want to recommend them to the general public. I still feel that when a lawn is so full of weeds that hand weeding is not practical, the best thing to do is to have it plowed up and reseeded. This is best done in August or September so that the grass has a chance to start in the fall whereas the weeds do not start until spring. It will also pay you at the time of replowing to incorporate as much humus with the soil as possible. This can be in the form of peat moss, rotted leaves, rotted straw, alfalfa chaff, clover chaff, or similar material.
